

There is no excuse
for violence.

yet

1 in 5

Australians believe that a lot of what is called domestic violence is really a normal reaction to day-to-day stress and frustration.

